■ Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism

Negotiators of the Council and the European Parliament reached a provisional agreement on the proposal for a Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism. The deal is dependent on the on-going negotiations on the EU Emissions Trading System and it can be formally adopted only once the elements relevant for CBAM are agreed in the other dossier. The CBAM will initially cover a number of specific products in some of the most carbon-intensive sectors: iron and steel, cement, fertilisers, aluminium, electricity and hydrogen, as well as some precursors and a limited number of downstream products. Indirect emissions would also be included in the regulation in a circumscribed manner. Under the provisional agreement, CBAM will begin to operate from October 2023 onwards. It would be phased in gradually, in parallel to a phasing out of the free allowances. The agreed text will be available soon.

Batteries

The Council and the European Parliament reached a provisional agreement on a proposal to strengthen sustainability rules for batteries and waste batteries, which will replace the current directive of 2006 and for the first time will regulate the entire life cycle of a battery. The regulation also introduces labelling and information requirements. The provisional deal now needs to be endorsed and formally adopted by both institutions. The agreed text will be available soon.

■ Environmental Crime

The Council adopted its general approach on the proposal for a directive on the protection of environment through criminal law. In particular, the directive aims to improve the investigation and prosecution of environmental crime offences, it adds new types of offences and harmonises the level of penalties for natural persons and for legal persons.

Negotiations with the European Parliament to agree on a final text will now start.

The profit of the large multinational and domestic groups or companies with a combined annual turnover of at least 750 million euro will be taxed at a minimum rate of 15%. The directive has to be transposed into by Member States by the end of 2023.
